

Hola Familia!

Exciting events are coming up! The featured dancer Adriana Maresma Fois will be conducting a workshop both at the Pasión y Arte Garage Studio and New York City's, Fazil's studio. Please read her full bio and don't miss the chance to take advantage of this great opportunity to learn from and outstanding artist!

January 31st, February 1st and 2nd

Beginner: 6:30-7:45 - Technique - Focusing on Upper Body, Arms and Feet - Choreography por Tangos

Intermediate: 8:00-9:45 - Technique Choreography por Solea

Cost per class is $25
Any three classes: $70
For all 6 Classes: $185

Location: Pasión y Arte Garage Studio
6411 Overbrook Ave- Philadelphia

At Fazils, NY- Feb 3rd, 4th & Feb 5th

Intermediate: 6:00-7:15

Technique- Focusing on Upper Body, Arms, and Feet - Choreography por Jaleo

Advanced: 7:30-9:00- Technique- Choreography por Rondena

Cost per class is $20-
For any three classes: $55
For all 6 classes $170

Location: Fazil's in New York City
743 8th Ave
between 46th & 47th

Contact Elba to sign up and for any additional information at 267-235-5685

Premier of the Trilogy "La Luna de Par en Par" (The Moon Wide Open)

At the Roschel Performing Arts Center at Franklin & Marshall Lancaster, PA

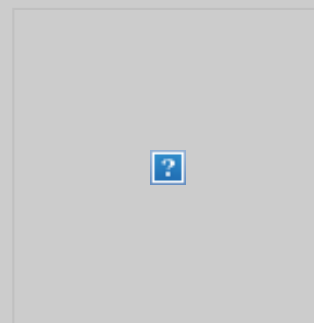

On February 10th & 11th, 8pm

For Information contact: www.fandm.edu, or call the Roschel Box Office at (717)358-7193

Other Flamenco Events not to be missed:

New York Flamenco Festival 2006

New York's annual flamenco celebration comes to town with over 60 dancers, vocalists and guitarists direct from Spain. From flamenco puro to contemporary innovations, these five nights of mesmerizing flamenco will feature renowned artists from Andalucia, the cradle of flamenco, and Madrid.

ANDALUCIA LOUNGE AT NEW YORK CITY CENTER

February 15 - 19

Special pre-concert events open to ticket holders only.
Tapas and Spanish wines available at concession stand.

Flamenco Dance Classes - All Levels

Wednesday, February 15 -

Sunday, February 19, 2 hours before curtain

Mezzanine lobby at New York City Center

Classes held by Nelida Tirado, former member of Compañía María Pagés

Meet the Artists

Wednesday, February 15, 6:00 PM

"La Luna de Par en Par" (The Moon Wide Open) will be premiering in its entirety at the Roschel Performing Arts Center at Franklin & Marshal in Lancaster, PA. The piece was conceived by Elba Hevia y Vaca, choreographer/executive/artistic director of Pasión y Arte in collaboration with master Flamenco choreographers Alejandro Granados and Raquel Heredia. Further collaborations include original compositions by Gonzalo Grau and Cristian Puig and video landscapes by Adal Maldonado.

Conceptually, the trilogy explores the female psyche through our experience of dance. It is a journey of a woman: Part I explores Loss of Innocence-Awareness, Part II confronts Duality-Masculinity, and Part III displays Evolution-Woman. Each section of the trilogy has thematically consistent use of choreography, cast, music, video set and costume. The piece is firmly rooted in the Flamenco Tradition but it introduces multi-disciplinary elements by the various musical genres, cross disciplinary choreography and video to create a visual landscape and set.

The Performance at Roschel will be featuring Adriana Maresma Fois as guest dancer. She is a graduate from the University of New Mexico, and has lived, studied and worked in Spain for the last 16 years. She has been on tour with various prestigious companies from Spain throughout South America and Europe. She will be conducting dance workshops both in Philadelphia, New York and Lancaster to share her knowledge of the Flamenco Language.

The piece also features Pedro Cortes, master Flamenco guitarist, who comes from a long line of Gypsy guitarists. In addition to being the musical director of his own fusion group, Amanecer, he has toured with major companies from the US and Spain such as Maria Benitez Dance Co., Jose Greco and Noche Flamenca.

Hasta pronto,
Elba Hevia y Vaca
Artistic Director, Pasión y Arte

Malsin Room at New York City Center
Angel Rojas and Carlos Rodriguez of Nuevo Ballet Español discuss modern trends in flamenco. In Spanish.

Friday, February 17, 6:30 PM
Malsin Room at New York City Center
Antonio El Pipa speaks about the Gypsy tradition and flamenco. In Spanish.

Get your tickets early for this festival because they sell out very quickly. Call for tickets at Citytix 212-581-1212 or 1- 877-681-1212.

If you know someone who would like to know about our events, please forward this e-mail.